No. 1112 Walnut Street

Commencing at 2 P. M.

PREFACE.

Mr. Herbert Du Puy has commissioned me to sell at public auction, his collection of Coins, and collectors perusing the following pages will notice a number of desirable pieces—the series of U. S. Gold Coins are excellent; the 1794 dollar, a very satisfactory specimen—1797 $\$\frac{1}{2}$, 1796 $\frac{1}{2}$c., etc.

Mr. Louis Winkler was one of the sufferers by the earthquake at Kingston, Jamaica, his establishment being completely destroyed by the earthquake and fire; the loss compelled him to sell his collection of Coins, which were fortunately in Philadelphia.

The Coins will be on exhibition from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m., day of sale at the auction rooms, 1112 Walnut St. I make the regular charge of 10% of the amount purchased, for executing bids sent to me. The auctioneers will execute, free of commission, any bids sent them, but they require cash prior to delivery and assume no responsibility.

I guarantee every article to be genuine and hold myself responsible indefinitely.

Priced catalogues will be supplied after the sale at 50c.,

The rating of the coins has been carefully done and I trust will give the same satisfaction, as was the result of my last sale—the Leeds Collection, Nov. 27-28, 1906, at which sale I had 144 bidders and several thousand bids.

Send in bids as soon as convenient and before sending, please read and compare, so that errors may be avoided.

With the exception of proof sets, or where lot is so stated, each article is sold at so much each piece, and when over 50c., the bid should be 5c. advance, thus $1.55, not $1.51.

Thanking Collectors for the splendid support given my last sale and gratefully acknowledging the many expressions of good will and wishes for my prosperity and success, I remain,

Very respectfully,

HENRY CHAPMAN, Jr.,
Numismatist,
No. 1348 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Being entirely out of Leeds sale catalogues, I will be very much obliged to any collector who will send me a copy of that catalogue, if he has no further use for it.
